About People and Things

By C. B. McDowell

Progressing

Commissioner Flournoy Whitman reports that the work of clearing the Elba-Kinston highway right-of-way is progressing rapidly. A large crew of men with equipment is working on the Kinston end and coming this way as rapidly as possible.
It is understood that most of the hindrances to obtaining the right-of-way inside the city limits from the Opp highway to the canal bridge are being ironed out satisfactorily and work on this end of the project will commence as soon as possible.

Save Many Sights

Miss Frances Conner returned Sunday night from a two weeks trip to the Northeastern states. In company with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Vickers, of Decatur, Ga., she visited New York City, Washington, D. C., and other large cities. Miss Frances said she saw more sights than she knew existed in the world and enjoyed her trip immensely, but was happy to get back home where she can relax and really live.

Returns From Japan

M-Sgt. and Mrs. J. O. Bailey returned April 4th from a several years stay in Japan, and are enjoying a 60 day leave with relatives in Elba.
In commemoration of their return Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Whitman prepared a fine luncheon for the entire Whitman family participating. It was the first time in many years that all five of the Whitman children had been at home at the same time and it was a happy occasion for all.
M-Sgt. Bailey expects to report for duty in Atlanta at the end of his furlough.

No Rabbit Feed

The Farmers Feed and Seed Store was trying to sell Charles Lindsey some rabbit feed. Charles reported that the rabbits are eating everything he plants anyway and he sees no point in buying feed for them. No sale.

GENE EDDINS

of Elba Route 5 has just returned from an intensive course in front end alignment, wheel balancing, and frame straightening conducted by the Bear Manufacturing Company, Rock Island, Ill.

Mr. Eddins reports a most enjoyable trip as well as an instructive one. At the school Mr. Eddins was associated with a number of men who came from the midwest where they have had such devastating blizzards this past winter. In addition to the damage done by the unheard of snow fall in the destruction of livestock they are now experiencing still further damage in the washing away of homes by the water from the melting snow. Adding still further to their misery Mr. Eddins said was a fresh snow high left before he left Illinois.

According to Mr. Eddins he was most impressed with the diversification of the farms and the prosperity of the farming communities and the huge livestock processing plants in St. Louis and Peoria. Another highlight of the trip was the springs in Hot Springs, Arkansas.

In spite of all the "eye poppers" Gene has seen he says he will still take South Alabama but hopes to see this section grow more like the ones he saw in the production of small grains and livestock. They seem to be the harbingers of general prosperity.

Case Of Mage Terry Most Drastic In History Of County

(By Fred S. Watson)

In 1896 Mr. Louis Thomas and wife, Van, lived with their four children in a little house 4 miles northeast of Enterprise.
Mr. Thomas secured a job with a railroad company helping construct railroads over the country. He was away from home most of the time, but Mrs. Van Thomas remained at home with the children and tended the farm while her husband was away. She hired a Negro man by the name of Mage Terry to help her on the farm.

One night in the spring of 1896 between midnight and day someone broke into the Thomas home and murdered the 30-year-old wife. The killer then fired the bed upon which Mrs. Thomas was murdered, trying to destroy the evidence of the crime. The children were awakened and immediately put out the fire. Discovering that the mother had been murdered, a large posse of men started searching for the murderer. Footprints were followed from the Thomas home to the home of the Negro, Mage Terry, but he had fled to the swamp.

The news of the awful crime spread over Coffee County, and the public was angry. Large searching parties were sent all over the country looking for Mage Terry.
The killer was at last captured by Aaron Helms, who at that time was a bailiff in Enterprise. Mr. Bud Brooks, who lives about two miles north of Enterprise, states, "After Aaron Helms captured Mage Terry, he brought him to Enterprise, on his way to Elba. I was asked to watch the Negro while he walked up the street a few minutes. After Mr. Helms walked away the Negro ran through the woods and made his escape. He got away from me in front of where the First Baptist church now stands.

The search for the killer became more intense all over the country and a reward of $1,000 was offered for his capture. The search continued until August 1896.
Early one morning Mage Terry knocked on the door of Mr. J. M. Crumpler, who lived at that time near the Dale and Coffee county line. When Mr. Crumpler came to the door, the Negro said, "Mr. Crumpler, I've about starved to death, and I know dem folks is gon' to catch me, so I wants to give up to you so you can get the reward." Mage also said that during his four of five months of hiding out in the swamps he was forced to wild berries or anything he could find to keep him from starving. Mr. Crumpler hid Mage in his barn to keep angry mobs from finding him until he could turn him over to the law. He was taken to the county jail at Ozark where he remained for two or three days.

Mr. J. B. Lightner, sheriff of Coffee County at that time, and his son, Ois, who was deputy sheriff, were sent to Ozark to return the prisoner. Mr. Lightner stated, "When the people of Clintonville learned that we would bring the Negro through there on our return to Elba, they formed a mob and intended to take him away from us. When we learned of their plans, my father and I put Mage on the train at Ozark and brought him back through Troy to shun the angry mob."

After the prisoner was placed in the jail at Elba public sentiment ran so high that he was taken to Laverne and placed in jail to keep him from being lynched by the angry mobs. He remained in the Laverne jail for more than a year.

Mike Solly of Ozark, was the lawyer for Mage Terry, and the circuit judge was Mr. Hubbard. Mage Terry was brought to trial during the fall term of court in 1899. Hundreds of people from all over Coffee County gathered in Elba to witness the trial. Judge Hubbard sentenced Mage Terry to be hanged and the date was set for the execution. People from far and near came to Elba on the day the execution was to take place.

Mike Solly asked for a new trial for his client, and it was granted by Judge Hubbard only a few hours before the execution was to take place in Elba. The mail was brought to Elba in those days by road cart, and there was no time to get a message to Elba by mail before the execution. So Judge Hubbard wrote a message to Sheriff Lightner, and sent a Negro boy from Abbeville to Elba by horseback to deliver the message of the new trial. The messenger arrived in Elba only two hours before the hanging was to take place. Mage Terry was slipped out the back door of the jail by Sheriff Lightner, and rushed back to Laverne for safe-keeping.

The new trial was set for the fall term of court in 1897. Again the killer was sentenced to hang for his crime. In November 1897 Mage Terry mounted the crude scaffold which was constructed on the banks of Pea River at Elba and pulled with his life for one of the most drastic crimes ever recorded in the history of Coffee County.

Street Car House

The people of Elba have recognized the need for a new street car house and have been working on it for some time and labor as well as money.

The funds for this project have been used up in doing the work that has been done, and if the project is to continue the committee will have to have more funds as explained in their statement below.

We are inaugurating a new campaign for funds for Evergreen Cemetery. We hope you read the financial statement recently published in the Elba Clipper showing how the money you gave us for the cemetery was spent from late in 1947 up to the present time. We now have $11.49 in the general fund. Our goal is now $4,000. We hope you will make your donations liberal for the further upkeep of the cemetery and to eventually build a caretaker's house.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Morrow have recently given up a lot on which to erect this house on condition that we do build such a house, which we will do if and when enough money is donated to pay for having it built, in addition to what will be needed for the upkeep of the cemetery.

Without further donations our work will be financially ceased.

New Paving Project Gets Underway In County

Batten's Cross Roads
To Covington Line
Next For Paving

Probate Judge J. O. English reports that still another important paving project is scheduled to start in Coffee County in the near future. The highway to be paved starts at Batten's Cross Roads and runs to the Covington County line via Fairview and a distance of approximately 16 miles.

The highway crosses the Elba-Kinston highway at Perry's Store and intersects the Elba-Samson and the Enterprise-Geneva highways.

It is a farm-to-market project to be paid for jointly by Coffee County, the State and the Federal government. Judge English said the work of grading would probably start within 60 days but paving work will not likely be started before next spring or summer.

This is a very important road and will be an asset to Elba. Under existing conditions the people of the Holley's Store section have no good road to Elba. Elba is Highway Hub.

When the Elba-Kinston and the Elba-Glenwood highways are completed, Elba will be the hub of eight paved highways: the Elba-Opp, Elba-New Brockton, Elba-Troy, Elba-Brantley, Elba-Samson, Elba-Victoria, Elba-Kinston and Elba-Glenwood. The new road will be the ninth highway serving this territory.

No many Alabama cities can match that number.

Sheriff Tillman Has Lucky Ticket

A large number of baseball fans from Elba and surrounding territory attended the opening of the league season at Enterprise Monday night. An unusually close game was reported, Geneva defeating the Enterprise Boil Weevils by a 4-3 score.

A feature of the opening was the awarding of valuable prizes by the Enterprise Lions Club in the seventh inning. Elba fans were delighted to hear that Sheriff H. D. Tillman had been awarded the fine boat, motor and trailer valued at approximately $1,000.

Some of Sheriff Tillman's friends are wondering if he will find enough leisure time that he can steal away from his saddle horse to make use of his beautiful new boat, as he has never been up on a reputation as a boatman or a fisherman.

Shown above is a view of the Evergreen Cemetery at the end of the first phase of the beautification project. A great deal of time and effort has been expended to get the cemetery in this condition.

The reception rooms were decorated with red roses, the FFA flower.

In Prattville stands probably the oldest white oak tree in Alabama. A well known tree surgery company has estimated that the tree was of fair size at the time Columbus discovered America. Today, after a life of over 400 years the giant old oak is still hale and hearty.

On file at Bibb Graves Hall at Florence State Teachers College is a large collection of letters from General Andrew Jackson to General John Coffee, "Old Hickory," military aide during his Alabama campaign and later business associate.

Following the program, Joe Sawyer, president of FFA chapter announced that everyone would go to the vocational building where approximately 150 parents and teachers were served a barbecue plate.

New Double Duty Table Water Heater

CHICAGO—Ice cream is hot water do not mix—yet Mrs. Patricia Andrews is happily serving a favorite dessert from the double-duty electric water heater installed as a work surface to make efficient use of space. Hotpoint engineers have designed the new heater so that its cabinet and working surface, built into her streamlined all-electric kitchen, remains at room temperature. Builders acclaim this type of modern space saving equipment as step toward housing economy.

There is really something funny about it. Consider a First Church congregation singing: "Jesus, I may cross have taken, All to leave and follow thee; Destitute, despised, forsaken, 'Tis from hence my all shall be." Oh, come, come, ladies and gentlemen! Your cross? Where is it? "All to leave"? You are going right back to your homes for an extra-good Sunday dinner, "Destitute"—? (Some congregations, believe it or not, actually sing "naked, poor," instead of "destitute.") Not a one of you ever has Dr. Foreman been on relief; you probably have more money in the bank than most of the people who didn't come to church.

Some People Cannot Be Christians

IT MAY BE FUNNY to compare ourselves with what they really are. It is a sad, too, to be reminded that many of our foggy-minded some Christians are their own worst enemies.

They can sing blithely about it, and even complain (in song) about their own condition as something for the Salvation Army to look into, when they don't mean a word of it.

The fact is, Jesus did demand just the thing the hymn describes. He said, in so many words, "Whosoever doth not bear his cross and come after me cannot be my disciple."

What Did Jesus Mean?

THERE ARE TWO ways of misunderstanding Jesus here. One wrong line is taken by those who think Jesus did not mean a word he said. They believe that no one can be a true, 100 per cent Christian, unless and until he gives up all his property, all his family, and lives alone and wild, a hermit in the wilderness. The facts show that both these interpretations are false.

The world has never been really made better, either by selfish, comfort-loving worldly Christians, or by the wild and woolly hermits who are clean "out of this world."

"Love Thyself Last"

THE WISDEST, the most devoted Christians, have known better what Jesus meant. Jesus' own parable of the "rich fool" gives us the hint. He tells of a man who had everything he wanted... but when he came to die, he discovered he had nothing. In that little story Jesus shows us a man who put himself before God; and who put things before character. He lived for his body, he lived for his comforts, he lived for himself.

The neighbors, maybe, called him smart because he was rich; but God called him a fool, and what God calls a man, that he is.

Taking the cross means living as Jesus lived, not as that fool lived.

Christian's and Liquor Don't Mix

CONSIDER JUST ONE illustration of what Jesus means. Should a Christian drink alcoholic liquors? If you are not a Christian, you can try to answer this from non-Christian reasons; but that is not the question. Shall a Christian drink? Just think about this in the light of what Jesus said. The disciple of Christ will deny himself; does the drinker deny himself? The disciple of Christ will put Christ first always; but what does the drinker put first? Jesus called a man a fool who lived for his bodily pleasure, lived for himself; what would he call the man who thinks he can "take it or leave it" but who is actually tied to his bottles?

It is true, a selfish man may perhaps (for selfish reasons, such as saving money) deny himself liquor, tobacco, or even tea and coffee, and still be no Christian.

But a man who really denies himself, who loves himself last, will find that other self-denials follow as a matter of course. A man who lets his appetite dictate to him, especially his appetite for alcohol, is a man who is letting real self starve.

Man Bites Dog

"Man bites dog!" thought the English judge the other day, as he listened from his bench in Cambridge to the strange case before him.

A police officer named Peebles was reporting that he had received a hurry-up call to come to a restaurant. There, he reported, defendant Henry Strachan had stumbled in, "walked over to a dog that was chained in a corner, knelt down, caught the dog round the neck, and bit it on the nose."

The judge blinked. "Was the dog hurt?" he demanded, sternly stifling a smile.

"No," replied the officer, "but Mr. Strachan's false teeth fell out!"

Dumb Animals

After giving the private a dressing down for being so late in returning with supplies, the sergeant demanded: "Okay let's hear how it happened."

"Well, I picked up a chaplain along the road," said the rookie, "and from then on the mules couldn't understand a word I said."

NATURALLY

The marble tournament was in full swing. One little boy had missed an easy shot, and let slip a real cue.

"Edward!" called the preacher from the spectators' bench. "What do little boys who swear when they are playing marbles, turn into?"

"Golfers," was the reply.
